

PRIVACY POLICY

The Trident Company respects your privacy and our site visitors' information. We do not share, sell, or rent any of the information collected to any third parties and do not intend to do so in the future.

Information Collected

If you request or submit information to us by sending an email to addresses listed on this site or by filling out a "contact" form, we may save your, name, mailing address, or email address as well as any other information you provide. This information may be used to contact you in the future by mail, email, or phone to convey information about our solutions or services that we feel may benefit you. Your email and other information will not be sold to any third party.

How We Protect Your Information

The Trident Company provides various security safeguards to protect your information. We use industry-accepted technology to protect your data from disclosure to unauthorized third parties. Our server is also protected by a firewall to prevent unauthorized access to any information we may store. Although these measures are typically effective, use of the internet and related computer systems is inherently vulnerable to unauthorized access or "hacking." No guarantee can be given that all information you provide to us will not be accessed by unauthorized persons.

Information Collected by Others

The Trident Company's website may offer links to other websites, which may have information policies and practices that are different from ours. This notice addresses only The Trident Company's website policy, and does not apply to websites that users access via links from our site. The Trident Company is not responsible for the information collecting policies of other websites, for the practices employed by websites linked to or from our website, or for the information or content contained therein. Often, links to other websites are provided solely on the basis that they may contain useful information for our visitors. Users are advised to review the privacy policy of other websites.

Cookies

The Trident Company's website does not use cookies.

Updating, Correcting, and Deleting Personal Information

If you would like to have your personal information removed from our records, please send an Email to [\[inquiry@trident-metals.com\]](mailto:inquiry@trident-metals.com) with "Remove Personal Information" in the subject line.

Legally Compelled Disclosure of Information

The Trident Company may disclose information when legally compelled to do so: when we, in good faith, believe that the law requires us to do so or for the protection of our legal rights.

Consent and Periodic Policy Changes

By using this Site, you consent to our collection and use of personal information you choose to provide to us. The Trident Company reviews its privacy practices from time-to-time (i.e. to track technology and/or legal changes), and that these practices are subject to change. We reserve the right, at any time, to modify, alter, or update this policy, and any such modifications, alterations, or updates will be effective upon posting. To ensure continuing familiarity with the most current version of our privacy policy, please bookmark and periodically review this page.

This policy statement is made in the name of The Trident Company and is effective as of June 17, 2015 and may be modified from time to time.
